MURDER OF SIRDAR. BRITAIN MAKES FIRM DEMANDS. ZAGLUL'S POLITE REPLY.

Promise to Punish The Assassins.

(Reuter's Service.)

Cairo, November 23.
The Egyptian reply to the British Note is couched in polite terms and agrees to the demands for an apology, the punishment of the criminals, and payment of an indemnity of 250,000.

It promises to prevent any disturbance of the peace by demonstrations.

Zaghlul Pasha read the reply in the Chamber, which thereafter passed a vote of confidence in the Government with one dissentient.

The British Note.

According to an earlier cable, the British Note to the Egyptian Government demands:—

A proper apology.
An indemnity of half a million pounds sterling.

The prohibition of political demonstrations.

The withdrawal of Egyptian officers and units from the Sudan, Sudanese troops to come under the control of the Sudan Government proper.

The Note reserves for revision the conditions governing the retirement of British officials and insists on the retention of British Judicial and Financial Advisers.

The Note further demands the most energetic prosecution of inquiry into the crime and the condign punishment of the criminals without respect to persons.

It also notified the Egyptian Government of an increase in the Gezira cotton irrigation scheme from three hundred thousand feddans to an unlimited figure.

The Note re-affirms the absolute right of the British Government to protect foreign interests in Egypt and calls upon the Egyptian Government to cease all opposition in this connection.

A reply within twenty-four hours is demanded.

Premier Zaghlul Pasha is seeing the King immediately.

It is expected that the Premier will resign.

Protection of Foreigners.

The opening of the Note to Egypt as published by the Foreign Office says: "The murder, which holds up Egypt to the contempt of civilised peoples is the natural outcome of the campaign of hostility to British rights and British subjects in Egypt and the Sudan, which was not discouraged by the Egyptian Government and fomented by organisations in close contact with that Government."

It recalls Mr. Ramsay MacDonald's warning to Egypt of the consequences of the Government failing to stop the campaign and says: "By allowing the Sirdar to be murdered, the Egyptian Government have proved that they are incapable or unwilling to protect foreign lives."

Concluding, the Notes states that failing immediate compliance with the British demands, His Majesty's Government will forthwith take appropriate action with a view to safeguarding their interests in Egypt and the Sudan.

Presentation Of Note.

Accompanied by the Counselor of the Embassy, and escorted by a regiment of cavalry, Lord Allenby visited Mr. Zaghlul Pasha (the Prime Minister) and presented the Note. The Field-Marshal remained five minutes and received a royal cavalry salute both on his arrival and on his departure.

The presentation of the British Note was attended by an impressive ceremonial. Lord Allenby, in a lounge suit, motored to Mr. Zaghlul's office, escorted by the Sixth Lancers. He read the Note to Mr. Zaghlul in English and then handed it over with a French translation. On leaving, Lord Allenby stood to attention while the royal salute sounded, after which, accompanied by the Cavalry, he returned to the Residency. The Note to Zaghlul Pasha was in two parts: one laying down the penalties, the second specifying the requirements respecting the Army in the Sudan and the protection of foreign interests in Egypt.

Egyptian Reply.

The reply of Zaghlul Pasha says that the demand as regards the Sudan breaks the status quo and is contrary to the Constitution, whereby King Fuad Commander-in-Chief of the Egyptian Army, considers the demand with regard to Gezira irrigation as premature.

It says the position of foreign officials is regulated by diplomatic agreement and cannot be modified without the consent of parliament. It contends the "Liberalists" policy, at compatible with the principle of independence, has been adopted towards foreigners. The Note says no observations have been received from other foreign Powers.

A Prompt Reply.

Lord Allenby promptly replied to Zaghlul Pasha, that in view of the refusal to accept to the requirements regarding the Sudan, instructions are being sent to the Sudan Government to carry out the withdrawal of Egyptian military units from the Sudan, also informing the Sudan Government it was at liberty to increase the area of irrigation without limit.

Lord Allenby added: "Your Excellency will learn in due course what action is being taken in view of your refusal to comply with requirement 'Seven' regarding the protection of foreign interests."

The reply further requests payment of the indemnity by noon to-morrow.

Renewal of Demonstrations.

The march of the British troops through Alexandria was followed by the renewal of small anti-British demonstrations by students this morning.

Two aeroplanes from Cairo demonstrated over Tanta, where there is some restiveness, but the country hitherto has been generally tranquil.

The publication of the British Note last night caused a sensation in Cairo, people eagerly buying up special editions of the papers. There was much excitement.

Use of Indemnity.

LONDON, November 23.
It is officially stated that the Egyptian indemnity will be devoted to benevolent objects in the Sudan, subject to provisions for the victims of the outrage.

Points of Note.

LONDON, November 23.
The two important demands made in the British Note, it is pointed out, are:—

Firstly, that the retention of the British Judicial and Financial Advisers relates to the three officials, whose powers have been encroached upon, under the Zaghlul régime.

Secondly, the unlimited irrigation of the Sudan, in connection with which it is recalled an extensive irrigation scheme at Gezira for the purpose of cotton-growing, assisted by the Sudan Government was voluntarily curtailed to 300,000 feddans by Lord Allenby, in order to placate the Egyptians who feared the damming of the Upper Nile would curtail their supplies.

In this connection an authoritative statement of the British point of view declares that nothing in the present Note will diminish the Egyptian water supply.

The statement adds that steps will be taken not to interfere with the declaration of Egyptian independence of 1922, nor with the agreement of 1899, regarding co-dominion in the Sudan.

WOMEN OF SYDNEY.
INSTIGATE MURDER OF "SCABS."

EX-SOLDIERS ATTACKED.
(Reuter's Service.)
SYDNEY, November 23.
As a result of women urging waterside federationists to kill "scabs," 200 men attacked 15 workers from the ex-soldiers Bureau, who are regarded as blacklegs. The police separated the combatants and made three arrests.

ARMS' POSSESSION.
ACCUSED ARRESTED AT STAR FERRY.

A Chinese was brought up at the Central Magistracy this morning and charged with possession of a fully loaded revolver. On the application of the police, the man was remanded. The weapon was found concealed inside his jacket on being searched at the Star Ferry wharf barrier on the Kowloon side.

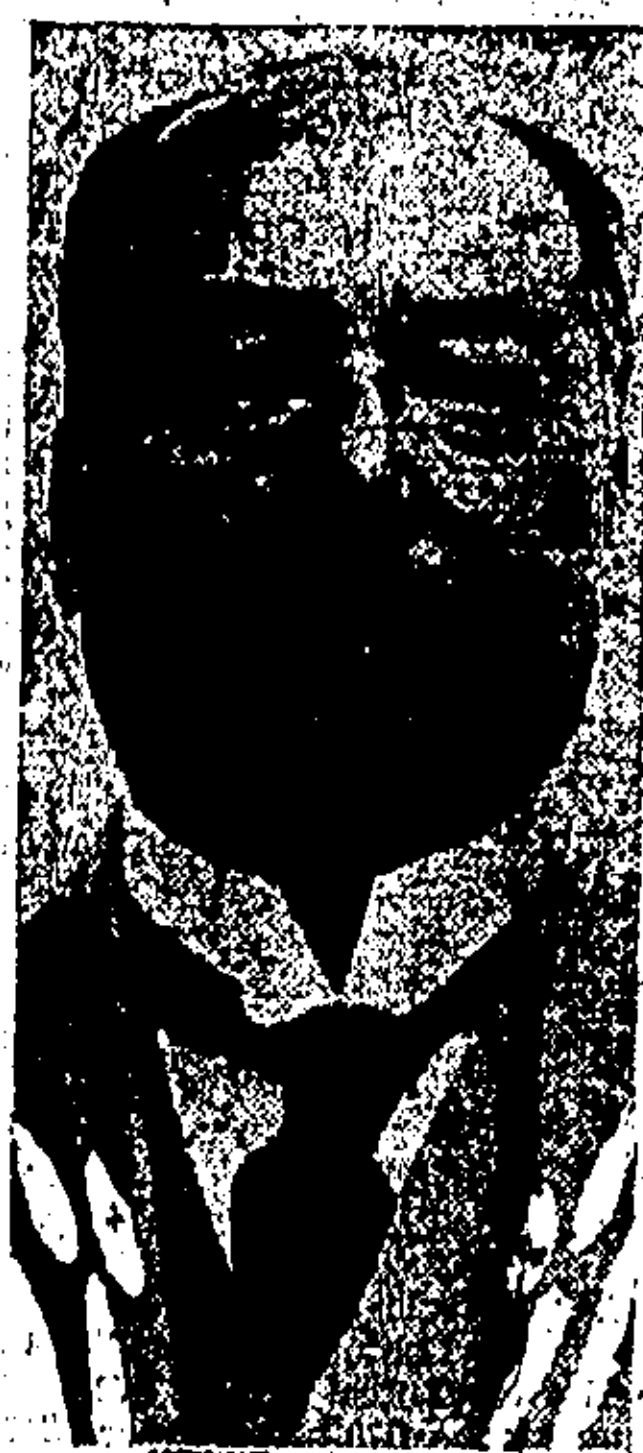

LIANG AND HSU.

"GOD OF WEALTH"
AS HOST.

A SIGNIFICANT MEETING.

WILL OLD COMRADES MEET AGAIN?

Although it is not conjectured that he will re-enter the Peking political arena just at the moment, gossip in Hongkong predicts that the "God of Wealth," or Mr. Liang Shih-yi as he is known to the Chinese, head of the "Communications Party" and former Premier of China, will soon be leaving this Colony for Peking where he is to co-operate with Marshal Tuan Chi-jui and General Feng Yu-shiang in shaping the Northern Government's destinies.

Mr. Liang Shih-yi.

This much is presumed from a dinner given by Mr. Liang, at his residence, No. 11, Robinson Road, to "Little" Hsu (General Hsu Shih-tung) before the latter's departure for Europe (in the words of an interview by the "China Mail") "to add to his education the better to qualify himself as a future administrator of China."

More Than Farewell.

"Little" Hsu, as some may know, was and still claims to be Marshal Tuan Chi-jui's henchman. Tuan has been nominated by the Christian General as the chief executive of the Peking Government, and it seems that he will yield to persuasion. The inference, therefore, is that the dinner referred to was more than a farewell to Hsu and that future prospects between Hsu and the "God of Wealth" may have been discussed.

As head of the "Communications Party," Liang has been out of politics since the accession to power of ex-President Tsao Kung and Wu Pei-fu, the leaders of the Chihli party. It was due to Marshal Chang Tso-liu's influence, that Liang was appointed Premier on December 24, 1921, but he was "rejected" by Wu Pei-fu. In the interval he visited Japan and this year he travelled rather extensively in Europe. His combination with Tuan Chi-jui, the Christian General, and Chang Tso-liu would supply financial aid and prestige; but there are some who doubt his intention to seek re-appointment.

Little Hsu Leaves.

"Little" Hsu has surprised the public by leaving on the day after his trip to England, Sir Robert Ho Tung will be leaving the Colony to-morrow or the day after for Shanghai in connection with his scheme for a round-table conference of China's leaders.

ex-Civil Governor Li Yew-hon of Canton at his residence, No. 61, Caine Road. On the day of his arrival here from Shanghai, he told the "China Mail" that he was reluctant to return North just yet even though his chief had been nominated as the new President. Then came his landing in the Colony and the protracted stay at the end of which, it was thought he would make his way to Tientsin and his party is now nominally in power.

Some time ago a "Reuter" cable was published to the effect that a former mandate for the arrest of "Little" Hsu (and many others) had been cancelled and that their previous titles, rank and honours had been restored. The last mail from the North mentions Hsu's name in a list of officials who are "restored" to the active list.

BEASTS OF THE JUNGLE.

WHERE THEY MAY NOT BE TAKEN.
THAT TIGER CUB INCIDENT.

What Really Happened On Saturday.

Because a tiger-cub was taken to a cricket match on Saturday, nobody need imagine that they can with impunity take a pet boar, constrictor or a baby elephant to a musical, so that these gentle creatures can have their backs stroked by the ladies present. The law is very distinct upon the subject.

In view of Saturday's tiger-cub incident at the Hongkong Cricket Club ground when the Hongkong Baseball Club met the Cricket Club in a game of cricket, a "China Mail" man wended his way to the Police Headquarters this morning to make inquiries. He was referred by the Captain Superintendent of Police (the Hon. Mr. E. D. G. Wolfe) to that famous local Ordinance—No. 1 of 1945 which deals with a multitude of sins. It is designed "An Ordinance to make provision for the preservation of Good Order and Cleanliness and the prevention of Nuisances." Section 3 starts with "Every person shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $50 who, in any thoroughfare or public place or place adjacent thereto, commits any of the following offences:—

"Each sub-section sets out a long list of offences but it is No. 9 that seems to meet the case. Inter-alia it says:—

"(9) in any thoroughfare or public place, to the annoyance of the inhabitants or passengers, to turn loose, clean, dresses, exercises, trains or breaks any horse or other animal.

Why any special mention of a horse should be made is a matter for conjecture but the general purport is plain enough. Beyond this any person can always take civil action for damages. The Ordinance does not even say "domestic." A jury or a judge in the position of a jury would be very likely to deem that the owner of a non-domestic animal was causing unnecessary danger to the public by bringing it out and as every person keeps an animal at his own peril, it is supposed that damages will be awarded.

Saturday's Incident.

On going the round of the baseballers who took part in the match it was learnt that the one who was supposed to have been mauled was not injured to the extent of shedding blood. He maintains that not even the leg of his trousers was torn, that the beast was very playful but did not seem vicious. From the baseball fraternity it was gathered that the owner—rumoured to be a person from the Oriental Show—bled rather profusely as the result of being mauled in the head. It was also stated that his coat was torn and that his arm was scratched.

That the police are on a lookout for jungle animals breaking loose is evident from a story related before Hongkong heard of the Peck tiger which was ultimately shot in the New Territories after it had killed a European sergeant.

A wealthy Chinese merchant was the owner of a menagerie which included a tiger, two bloodhounds, some whalers, ponies, several head of deer or antelope and, it is believed, a bear. According to a senior officer of the Force who is now in retirement, the police heard that the tiger had mysteriously escaped and inquiries were at once instituted but it was not possible to connect the Peck tiger with the one previously in captivity. The owner, so the story went, replied that he had sent it back to the interior. Nevertheless, out-station officers were notified to keep a lookout for spoor.

BONE OF CONTENTION.

The British Government in its latest Note to the Egyptian Government has once again endorsed the policy of its predecessors with regard to the Sudan.

SIR R. HO TUNG.
SHORTLY LEAVING FOR SHANGHAI.

ROUND-TABLE CONFERENCE PLAN.

Although he has not been back here very long after his trip to England, Sir Robert Ho Tung will be leaving the Colony to-morrow or the day after for Shanghai in connection with his scheme for a round-table conference of China's leaders.

TAIKOO FATALITY.
BEAM BREAKS HURLING MEN TO DEATH.

THREE KILLED.

A serious accident, with fatal results, occurred at noon on Saturday at the Taikoo Sugar Refinery resulting in several lives being lost.

A gang of fitters, who were standing on a beam stretched across the scaffolding of a building in course of construction, were hauling up a cast iron bore, weighing about 400 lbs, for use in connection with a water system when the beam suddenly collapsed and the men were hurled to the ground 75 feet below.

One of the men was instantly killed, two died in hospital, and two others are lying there in a critical condition.

Triple Execution.

A triple execution has taken place at Grandex of Francis Jankowski and his two sons Stanislaus and Antonio, who were found guilty of committing 18 murders. On the last day they claimed the condemned men's supper—a pound of sausage, bread and lard, and cigarettes each. They asked for a priest, who spent the whole night with them. They were shot by a company of the 64th Infantry Regiment.

£500 Tip.

The £500, which the German delegation gave as a tip to the staff at their hotel during their recent stay in London, says the "Daily Mail" was stated by hotel managers to be "a good tip, slightly erling on the side of generosity, but not exorbitant considering the size of their bill." The hotel accommodation is said to have cost them from £400 to £500. It must also be remembered, said the manager of one West End hotel, "that it was a Government delegation, working day and night and having special facilities, and in the circumstances it was the right tip. It is not a record. When Mr. George Kessler gave his famous gondola dinner in a London hotel many years ago he gave £1,000 to the waiters, carpenters, and workmen who had filled the courtyard of the hotel with water on which the gondolas floated and in which the guests dined.

Fur Farming.

Feed your fox—don't wear it. That is what Marjory Walton did, and it started her in one of the most thriving businesses in Canada. When two pet silver foxes were presented to her she did not convert them into neck-pieces, but she began breeding foxes and started a silver black fox ranch at Oakville, Ontario, which is now paying splendid dividends. What was started as a hobby has proved to be a good business proposition. Miss Walton is going to take a miniature of her fox farm to New York this fall, when she will show her foxes at the Women's Activities exhibit, which is put on annually by the New York League of Business and Professional Women.

Pictures Stolen.

Eight valuable pictures were stolen during the night of October 1 from the Dusseldorf Museum of Art, the canvases being cut out of the frames. It appears that the thieves selected pictures that would find a ready sale. The attendants state that during the morning before the theft two visitors seemed particularly interested in certain of the pictures and that one of them returned in the afternoon. It is presumed that the robbers calmly made their selection in this manner. A reward of 20,000 gold marks (£1,000) is offered for information leading to the conviction of the thieves and the recovery of the pictures.

Explorer's Gallant Act.

The four-masted schooner, "Kathleen Annie," from Bremen to Newfoundland, which came to Kirkwall for repairs and left in a heavy south-easterly gale, was wrecked on the Green Holms or Eday Island. The crew were brought to Kirkwall by the steamer "St. Magnus." During the height of the gale Commander Worsley, who was in command of the vessel, dropped from the bowsprit with a rope, made the shore and thus enabled the whole of the crew to escape from the ship, then fast breaking up. Commander Frank Worsley captained the ship "Endurance" in Sir Ernest Shackleton's South Polar expedition, and navigated Shackleton's boat from Elephant Island to South Georgia. He served with distinction in the war, gaining his D.S.O. and later was chief navigator of the "Quest."

LAI WAH CUP FINAL.

Surprising Defeat of the Chinese.

Interest in this competition was anticipated by the Football Association, but the enormous crowds that attended was far and away in excess of anything yet seen on the Valley as far as football is concerned. Long before the time of kick off the uncovered stand was filled and hundreds were turned away, whilst the covered stand was comfortably filled, in addition both ends were packed, a large force of Police being in attendance to keep them from encroaching on the field.

The teams lined out as follows:—

Civilians:—Clarke, Wheeler and Bishop; McKelvie, Stewart and Duncan; Britton, Howard, Jones, Rocha and Brown.

Chinese:—Lau Hing-cheung; Ng Kam-chuen and Lai Yuk-lai; Leung Yuk-tong, Wong Shu-wa and Lam Yuk-ying; Pang Kam-wing, Suen Kam-shun, Wong Pak-chong, Li Wai-tong and Chan Kwong-lu.

Referee, Mr. Spencer. Linemen, Messrs Collins and Worby.

Wong Pak-chong won the toss and elected to defend the eastern end. The game started sensationally for within the first minute the Civilians were a goal up, a fine movement by their left wing ended in Brown sending over a lovely centre for Jones to head past Lau. Stung by this unexpected reverse, the Chinese took up the attack but Wheeler and Bishop were safe a foul against Brown sent in Wong, but Clarke was in the right place, and he later brought off a fine save from Li Wai-tong. The Chinese left wing were very prominent hereabout, but Chan Kwong-lu sent behind. The Civilian forward line were sent away by Stewart who was playing a very brassy game, but Brown getting outside spoilt a good movement. Lai Yuk-tat was pulled up for fouling just outside the penalty area, Leung Yuk-tong cleared from the kick, and sent Pang away on the right but he spoilt everything by fouling Duncan. Brown got going on the left but Rocha being offside neutralised a promising movement. Chinese took up the attack and Wheeler very neatly let his side down by not passing back hard enough, Chan Kwong-lu nipping in to shoot, but Clark saved. Lam Yuk-ying obtained possession and tried a long shot, the ball just going over the bar. At the other end when well placed Howard handled from the kick, went down and centred to Wong who was luckily charged off the ball by Wheeler when about to shoot. Bishop rushing over, and clearing Brown obtaining possession went down but overran and sent the ball behind. With the Civilians pressing half time arrived with the score one goal to none in their favour.

From the restart the Chinese took up the attack, but Chan Kwong-lu was offside. Britton received from the kick and going down the line sent over a lovely centre for Jones to head over the bar. Good work by the Chinese left wing saw Chan Kwong-lu in the side of the net amidst many "AR YAH" from the crowd. The Chinese right wing here indulged in a pretty bout of dribbling. Leung Yuk-tong, assisting which resulted in Suen Kam-shun receiving about four yards out, a goal! (seemed certain) but Clark brought off a marvellous save, the ball going to Wheeler who cleared for Rocha, that player tried a first time that skipped the bar; a few seconds later the same player obtained possession and tapping the ball to Jones that player sent in a hard drive that Lau saved only to let the ball pass over his hands into the net. This must have been a stinging shot for a goalie of his reputation failing to hold.

Being two goals down the Chinese now put on pressure and Suen forced a corner off Duncan which was cleared and a lightning movement by the Civilian front line saw Jones send over the bar. Not to be outdone the Chinese again got going and the whole forward combined in a nice movement that finished up by Wong passing to Suen who beat Clarke from ten yards out. Heartened by this success the Chinese attacked with renewed vigour but the Civilian defence led by Stewart were on their mettle and gave nothing away, but at one time another goal seemed certain for Wong beating Wheeler passed to Pang who with only the goalie to beat headed over when a nice side tap would have made a difference. The Civilian forward line again came into the picture but with the goalie only to beat Duncan sent wide. A little later Howard had a fine chance to increase the score for with the goalie out he tamely sent the ball into the side of the net. The Civilians were now having most of the game. Jones forced a corner off Leung Yuk-tong, Rocha took the kick and placed the ball into the goalmouth, it was punched out by goalie, and Duncan receiving sent in a daisy cutter that missed by inches only. Not to be outdone they came again and Jones beating the backs went in; Lau came out and smothered what was a certain goal, the ball went out to Leung Yuk-tong who was robbed by Duncan, and that player sent Brown away almost on the line. He sent over Rocha, who on a shout from Jones just tipped it on to the latter player who was laying unmarked close in, he had no difficulty in scoring. Lau Hing-cheung standing helpless. The spectators were now convinced that the Chinese were in for a licking and started to take their departure but the players stuck to their guns and although they tried hard they were unable to score further, the final whistle sounding with the score three goals to one in favour of the Civilians.

Comment.

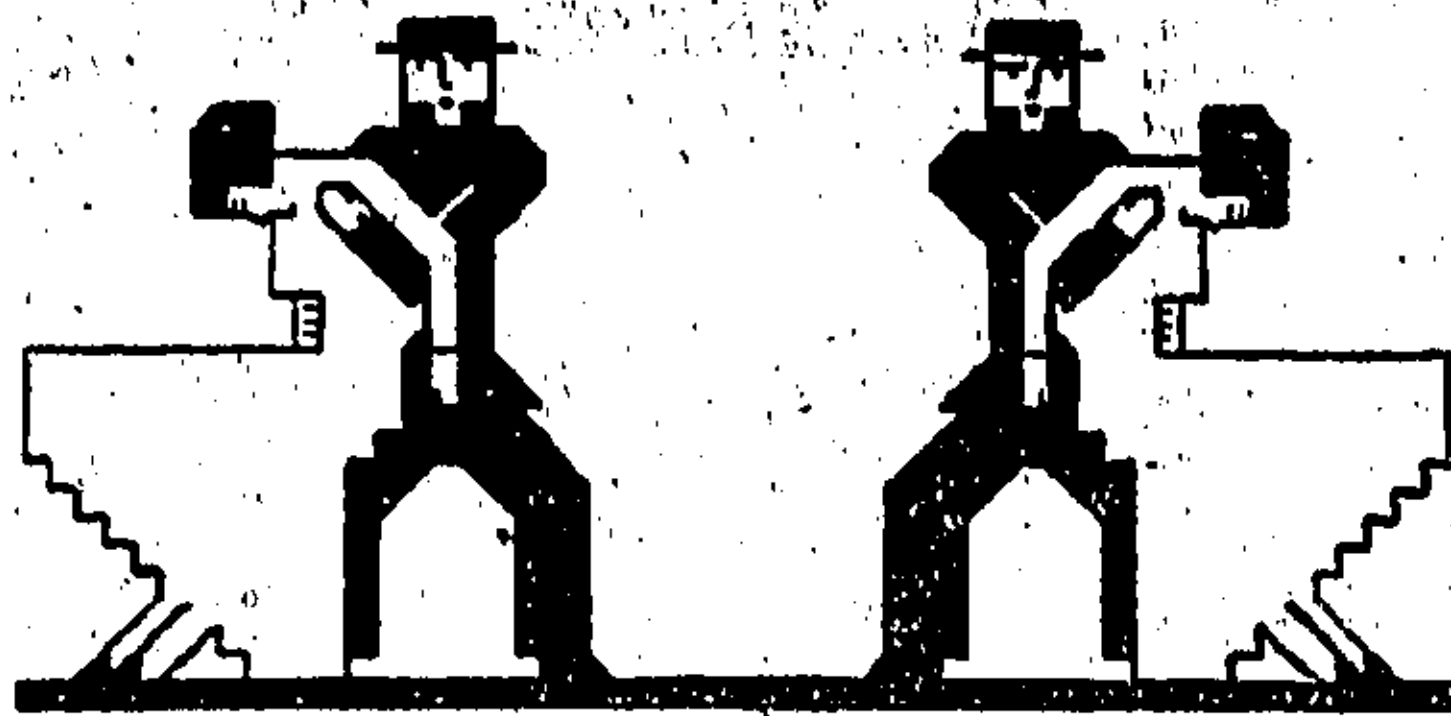

From what was heard previously to the start, the odds were all on the Chinese winning, and from a playing point of view that was to be expected, for they had the advantage of having always played together, whereas the left wing of the Civilians were the only two who played together, and right well did they justify their inclusion; they played pretty football and all three goals were the outcome of their play. Britton on the right was extremely weak, but a lot could not be expected from him, seeing his position is really right half. Jones proved that with the right forwards he can shine. Howard also did well. Duncan at left half should have satisfied the selection committee. Stewart played his usual game, whilst McKelvie did well against a fleet wing. Both backs were safe, and the goals could not be blamed for the one that passed him. The Interpost Selection Committee would do well to keep their eye on some of these players.

The Chinese team have played better; somehow their defence did not seem as confident as they usually are, probably the absence of Chan So upset their form; suffice it to say his substitute was not half as good. Lung Yuk-tong; was a tower of strength and but for him there is no doubt the score would have been heavier. Chan Kwong-lu and Suen Kam-shun were the pick of the forward line.

Second Division.

China "A" met the University and after a very close game managed to draw with them. Each side scored one goal, both from penalty kicks. It is to be regretted that in this game the Referee had occasion to send off one of the Chinese players.

St. Joseph's "A" had a very easy thing against their "B" team, for after a very easy game they ran out winners by four goals to none.

After being a goal down at half time the Drums succeeded in defeating the Chinese "B" team by 5 goals to one.

Kowloon v. Club de Recreio "B".

Playing on their own ground Kowloon had very little better success against Club de Recreio "B" than they had last week when playing the Club "A". Club de Recreio "B" surprised everyone with a rather easy win of three goals to one.

The Kowloon eleven started by pressing and should have scored in the early stages of the game, Trambitzky missing a rather easy goal. Latham then tried and put in a good shot but Fernandes saved well. Club de Recreio then got going, the ball passing to H. Silva who was playing outside left; he dribbled and then put in a lovely shot from outside, quite beating Beach and opening the score. Kowloon then pressed hard but Fernandes was playing a fine game and prevented them scoring; half-time arrived with the score one nil in favour of the Club.

In the second half, Club de Recreio started off well and had most of the play; after about ten minutes they scored. Prowse kicking to his own goal. Alves taking the opportunity rushed it through. The game then took on a dingdong aspect, with Kowloon trying hard to score, and keeping the play around their opponents goal. Trambitzky putting in several nice shots but with no result.

About ten minutes to time, Club de Recreio again took up the offensive with a fine piece of combination play by Silva and Alves who took the ball the length of the field, Alves eventually scoring the last goal of the match. For Club de Recreio "B"—Silva and Alves both played a fine game while Fernandes in goal was very sound, Kowloon were very weak on the whole and seemed short of a lot of their usual players.

Line Up:—Beach, Prowse, Parratt, Brown A. (Capt.) Rasmussen, Randle, Dallow, Ross, Latham, Trambitzky, Mair.

Club de Recreio "B": I. Fernandes, E. A. Gomes, S. E. Souza, C. R. Pereira, J. Pira, C. Remedios, Tony Silva, E. M. Franco, H. Alves, G. A. Osmond, H. Silva.

ASSOCIATION MEETING.

A general meeting of the Football Association was held on Friday evening. Mr. J. McCubbin presided over a well attended meeting, all Clubs being represented.

Following the opening of the meeting, the President expressed to Mr. F. Wheeler, the sympathy of the Association on the recent death of his father, Captain F. G. Wheeler.

An Interpost Selection Committee was chosen as follows:—Messrs. J. McCubbin, F. T. May, F. Smith, Lieut. Cottan and Chief Writer Vinar with the Hon. Secretary, Mr. H. E. Hollands. Mr. R. Hall, was elected a Vice-President of the Association vice the late Captain Wheeler.

The Secretary reported that the Referees Board had suspended the following players:—Adol Ping-fan, four weeks; An Ki-sang, and J. Leonard, two weeks, suspension to date from November 7th.

The S.C.A.A. were fined $5 by the League for postponing their Senior Division game with Kowloon without the consent of the Management Committee.

The University F.C. applied to postpone their fixtures of November 28th and December 6th which was allowed.

An appeal was read from the Alice Memorial & Affiliated Hospitals for financial assistance. It was decided that this would receive consideration when the proceeds from The "Sunday Herald" Cup Competition was allocated.

The Secretary drew the attention of the meeting to the fact that several Clubs had played unregistered players, and it was decided to deal severely with any Club doing this in future.

INTIMIDATION.

COOLIES SENTENCED ON SATURDAY.

The case in which two Sanitary Board coolies are charged with having intimidated Li Tin-wa, a bus driver, with intent to do an act which he was not legally bound to do, was continued at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday before Mr. E. W. Hamilton.

At the previous hearing, Mr. R. A. Webster, outlining his case for the prosecution, stated that the defendants had endeavoured to obtain money as compensation by falsely representing that an old man, who was slightly injured by complainant's bus, was dangerously ill in hospital.

Mr. N. I. Brewer, for the defence, submitted that the defendants in asking for compensation was acting on behalf of the old man.

His Worship found the defendants guilty of the charge, and sentenced them to four months' hard labour.

WHAT NEURASTHENIA IS: Its Characteristic Symptoms.

Neurasthenia is a condition of exhaustion of the nervous system. The causes are varied. Continuous work; mental or physical, without proper vacation periods; without proper attention to diet and exercise also worry over the struggle for success are the most common causes. Excess of almost any kind may produce it. Sometimes disease, like influenza, malaria, or the low fever of the tropics will cause neurasthenia. So also will a severe shock, intense anxiety or grief. The symptoms are over-sensitiveness, irritability; a disposition to worry over trifles, headache, nervousness, tremor, etc. The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic. The nerves get their nourishment from the blood; the treatment must be directed toward building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to anemia, or bloodlessness, shown by most neurasthenic patients, is also corrected by these pills.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 180 Nassau St., New York, N.Y. 10037. 50¢ per bottle, 60¢ per bottle, 60¢ per bottle. Write for free booklet on nervous disorders. It contains a chapter on the home treatment of neurasthenia.

CHARITY.

ANNUAL REPORT OF ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.

STATEMENT FOR YEAR.

Below will be found the report of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul for the year 1924.

In presenting this report and statements of accounts the Council wishes to express its grateful thanks to the public of Hongkong for the generous response to the Society's two annual appeals: "Our Poor Day"—Sale of Roses, and the Bazaar.

The net proceeds of last year were $21,092.10 as against $18,028.83 for the previous year. Thanks to this splendid result the Society has been able to extend its activities as the comparative figures in the following table will show:—

	1923.	1922.
Relief in money and provisions	$7,635.50	$6,047.50
Rentals	2,917.00	2,531.30
Clothing	249.90	138.60
Shoes	6,098.26	5,213.36
Education	405.46	210.60
Medical Aid	999.31	877.00
Special Grants	1,500.000	1,364.00
Christmas

The Council wishes to record its grateful thanks to Mr. C. A. da Rosa, A.S.A.A., for auditing the accounts.

During the 9 months—January to September 1924, 1348 visits were made to the Poor in their homes and 164 families, comprising 296 persons, irrespective of creed, have been regularly relieved.

The expenditure under this head was $6,582.64 as against $5,643.50 for the first nine months in 1923.

Housing Accommodation.

The increase in rent and in the cost of living has considerably aggravated the distressed condition of poor families which can be realized only by personal visits to their homes. They have been forced to live in smaller premises and many of them in congested areas. This is giving the Society no little cause of anxiety, as, apart from the question of health, there is, in this overcrowding, a grave moral danger for the children of such poor.

The Society has again had to deal with several cases of temporary relief and other destitutes from outside the Colony.

The expenditure for the 9 months—January to September, 1924 on temporary relief granted and passage provided was $1,660.00. In this connection the Society is grateful to some of the Shipping Companies for reductions in their fares.

Medical Aid.

That the health of the poor has been greatly affected by the shortage of housing accommodation is reflected by the Society's expenditure under this head which amounted to $405.46 in 1924 as against $210.60 in 1923 while for 9 months January to September, 1924, assistance to the extent of $300.55 has already been given.

Children of the Poor.

This is a work to which the Society devotes much of its time and attention. Of the 154 children whose parents or guardians are the Society's beneficiaries, 129 are receiving an English education at the expense of the Society or are attending the Society's Vernacular Schools. The Society also pays for four orphan girls as boarders at the Italian Convent, one boy at St. Joseph's College, two boys and three girls at St. Louis Industrial School. The Council is grateful to these schools for reduced charges. The Kailap School, Wanhsai, has continued to be successfully conducted to the satisfaction of the children's parents. All available accommodation has been filled up during the year and many applicants have had to be refused. The daily average attendance is 93.

However, the School has not been so far successful in obtaining any Government Educational Grant this year. The Society's expenditure on account of this School during nine months ended 30th September was $1,369.70.

The Society of St. Vincent de Paul School at Mongkok has been able to carry on during 1924 without further help from the Society. Under the head of Education the Society also spent in 1923 $129.71 for books and stationery, and $147.75 for tram fares in needy cases to help children to attend school.

The total amount of expenditure on Education for the first 9 months of this year amounted to $4,109.7.

Employment Bureau.

This is a new branch of the Society's work which the Council is anxious to organize thoroughly. The object of the Bureau is to find suitable employment for poor boys and girls on leaving school, on completion of their general school education. The scheme is also to assist others who may be out of employment, by bringing to their notice particulars of any vacancies, and by endeavouring to encourage, by evening classes at Kailap School, those who wish to themselves for more remunerative situations or to secure employment in trades suitable to their vocations.

THE CHINA MAIL.

It is the intention of the Council to address the Government and the various business houses of the Colony to break their sympathy with, and co-operation in, this work. Employment was found for three girls and two boys in 1923.

Home for Aged Poor.

The accommodation in the present house at Kowloon Tong is entirely inadequate to meet the large number of deserving cases that come or are sent for admission. It is with painful feelings that the Little Sisters of the Poor who are in charge of the Home are frequently obliged to turn away poor people for whom they would very much like to provide. Even the verandahs, closed in and as dormitories, are being used as dormitories.

In furtherance of their work the Little Sisters of the Poor are appealing to the Public of Hongkong for support to enable them to provide a new and enlarged Home for the Aged Poor of the Colony on the site which the Government has kindly offered them at the back of Kowloon City.

The Council has voted a special grant of $5,000.00 to this deserving object, of which $2,500.00 has been paid and $2,500.00 is contingent upon the result of the forthcoming Bazaar.

The Society has continued to pay rent for the present building as well as the charges for Telephone and Light which amounted to $1,928.01 in 1923. From January, 1924 the monthly rent will be increased to $1,500.00.

The Council wishes to record here on behalf of the Little Sisters their deepest appreciation to Mrs. Moore and Mr. Kam-wah for their honorary medical treatment of the Aged Poor and the Sisters.

Christmas Grants.

The expenditure on this account in 1923 was $1,500.00 and the following are the particulars of the grants made:

For the Home for the Aged Poor Kowloon Tong $200.00; for the orphans at the Italian Convent, Caine Road, $100.00; for the destitutes at Wanhsai Convent $50.00; for the Sacred Heart Foundling Home, West Point, $50.00; for the Home of the Blind and Crippled, Hungnam $50.00; for the orphans of the French Convent $100.00; for House of Refuge, Causeway Bay $50.00; for the Deformed and Crippled at La Calvaire $100.00; for Xmas Treat to the poor at the Catholic Union Club $100.00; for the poor under the Wanhsai Conference $120.00; for the poor under the Central Conference $173.00; for the Orphanage at Shaukiwan $50.00.

Acknowledgment.

The Society's special thanks are due to the following:

Help Hongkong's Poor.

In presenting this brief record of the Society's work during the year to the suffering poor of the Colony the Council feels that it can again appeal with confidence to the generosity of the Hongkong Public both on the occasion of the Street Sale of Roses on Our Poor Day, Monday December 1st, and at the 1st "Al Fresco Fete," which will be held on December 7th. The Society depends almost entirely on these two annual public appeals for the maintenance and extension of its work among the Poor of this Colony.

LAWN BOWLS.

C. GREEN WINS COLONY CHAMPIONSHIP.

On the Kowloon Cricket Club bowling green on Saturday afternoon, C. Green (Craigengower) gave a capital exhibition when he defeated D. Gow (Kowloon Dock Recreation Club) in the final of the Colony's Championship.

The winner started off with a 3 for the first head, his opponent scored two and one for the second and third heads making the scores level. In the fourth and fifth, Green scored 2 and 1 respectively. Gow with a 3 drew level in the sixth head.

After the eleventh head, the score was 11 to 7 in favour of Green. When fourteen heads had been played Green led by 19 to 7. At the sixteenth attempt Gow scored 2 adding another at the seventeenth. Green put the issue beyond doubt in the eighteenth head by scoring 3—one more than he needed.

The semi-finalists, who were defeated in the previous round were: R. Hall and P. Farrell, both members of the Kowloon Bowling Green Club.

Prize Presentation.

After tea had been partaken of, Mr. C. J. Tacchi, Hon. Secretary of the Hongkong Lawn Bowls Association, said that he had much pleasure in inviting Mrs. R. M. Dyer to present the prizes to the winner, the runner-up and the defeated semi-finalists.

After Mrs. R. M. Dyer had graciously carried out her duties, she was the recipient of a floral spray, in silver holder, which was handed to her by Mr. Tacchi as a memento of the occasion.

Mr. R. M. Dyer, on behalf of his wife, briefly replied. He dwelt on the pleasure it had been to Mrs. Dyer to accept the invitation to make the presentation, and thanked Mr. Tacchi and the Association for the honour conferred on his wife. He said that probably many present had seen some excellent performances on the green on former occasions but he doubted whether any had seen such a fine exhibition as that given by Mr. Green. He was sure he was speaking for all present when he heartily congratulated Mr. Green on his victory. With regard to the gallant loser, he had their sympathy and they could only ask him to accept it and persevere.

Hearty cheers for Mrs. Dyer, on the call of Mr. Tacchi, brought a pleasant afternoon's sport to a close.

The scores follow:—

C. GREEN.	HEADS.	D. GOW.

Three Chinese were brought up at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday morning and charged with unlawful possession of two revolvers and 75 rounds of ammunition. The men, who were arrested at No. 108, Canton Road, first floor, are further charged with having optimum in their possession. The case was adjourned for 48 hours, the defendants being remanded.

Shoes Rheumatic Pains.

Artificial heat is too cold and rheumatic pains in arms and shoulders disappear when Chamberlain's Pain Balm is rubbed on the aching spot. It is good to the skin, penetrates quickly to the very seat of the pain, soothes the inflammation, relieves the pressure and the pain is gone. Field and recommended everywhere.

"WHITE THREAD OF SCIENCE"
ACHIEVEMENT OF COLONY.

In the current issue of "Imperial Commerce" is an article on "The White Thread of Science in Asia," by Prof. Middleton Smith, M.Sc., M.Tech., Dean of the Faculty of Engineering in the University of Hongkong. In the course of this he writes:-

The little Crown Colony of Hongkong has changed beyond all recognition during the last eight decades. We have recently had our labour troubles, evidence that the catastrophe in Russia has sent echoes into the Far East. Yet we may feel satisfied that the very conservation that kept China secluded from the rest of the world for centuries will save the country from the disasters which have caused such horrors in Eastern Europe. We believe that it is a great mistake to send young Chinese to Europe or America until after they have become used to contact with Europeans. For that reason the British University of Hongkong was established, eleven years ago. After four years of student life in Hongkong, the graduates have sound foundations upon which to build. They will benefit by post-graduate study and experience abroad, whereas Chinese schoolboys have often been entirely spoiled by premature removal from the family influence.

Eighty years ago, Chinese junk, picturesque but practical craft, slid in and out of the roadstead of Hongkong on errands of "murder and cruelty." Yesterday, great liners were at anchor off there in the Far Eastern harbour, and circling above them was a seaplane. It was the first time many of the natives of South China had seen flying. Across the narrow strip of water wireless masts rose up from an islet with silent assurances of the safety of friends steaming "home" across the Indian Ocean. Away to the right of them were to be seen the signals of the Observatory flying a warning that a typhoon might be expected soon. Puffing steam launches were hurrying inside the shelter created by the paternal Government.

We may be proud of the transformation by the British of this little island. But above all else may we be thankful that the religion of our race no longer is represented by a red thread in the texture of our national thought. It doesn't really matter what we call the white thread; some may call it science, some humanitarianism, some a lofty imperialism, others unselfish efforts for the benefit of posterity. As we see the results of it in Asia and realize that the mills which have manufactured this white thread of thought are mostly in that little island that we, in the Far East, always call "home," it seems that those who despair of progress should come out of the secluded cloisters of England and see the work that has been done in Asia. There they will see the splendid results of the white man's thoughts and energy. There isn't the time to spin black threads and the red threads, when there is the ceaseless struggle against the forces of nature and human inertia. The ocular evidence of the white threads makes us happy and thankful that many of our countrymen are weaving them into the texture of thought in Asia. For Anglo-Saxons will always be remembered in the history of Asia as the pioneers of healthy ideas and of humanitarianism in this great continent.

FLY TO MANILA.

ABBOTT REPORTED TO BE PLANNING SERVICE.
STUNTS IN THE P.I.

Aviation stunts, guaranteed to give everyone a thrill and show Manila the latest thing in dare-devil stunts with an airplane, will be staged on the Luneta next Saturday afternoon, says the "Manila Bulletin" of Monday, November 17. If the plans of Wayne Abbott, Jr., and Reginald Barnshaw, war-time fliers and aviation experts, are put across as the two men declare they are going to do, The Luneta is to be used as a playground for the fliers and they are going to do everything possible and still retain body and soul together.

The visiting fliers arrived from Hongkong where they are interested in the commercial aspects of aviation, but here they are going to stage a show. Abbott is an American who declares he took his first trip in the air when he was three years old. Just what he flew in and how he did it he did not explain. Barnshaw is a British flier who saw much service during the war. He was flying over the lines for months and after the Armistice went into Germany in connection with the occupation forces.

The men came to Manila with the primary purpose of buying an airplane or two, but while here they have been prevailed upon to put on a show on the Luneta for the benefit of the Mary J. Johnston Hospital of Manila. They are being sponsored by the American Chamber of Commerce.

The two men are now conducting an aviation school at Hongkong. They are trying to train civilian fliers and say they are making a go of it. Furthermore, they plan to establish an aerial mail service from Hongkong to Shanghai and are trying to put it into operation by January 1, 1925. They say they have the approval of the Hongkong Government and that Government mail contracts will be forthcoming. One of their prospective ambitions is to establish a service to the Philippines and also, carrying through the islands, carrying mail and passengers.

Mr. Abbott will be remembered as the "stunt" aviator who met bad luck as the result of accidents in Hongkong. Mr. Barnshaw was one of his helpers, who after a period of service in the Police rounded up a gang of motor bandits in the New Territories.—Ed., "China Mail."

It is understood that Japan has requested the German Government to begin negotiations for the conclusion of a commercial agreement on the most favoured nation treatment for both parties. It may be recalled that Germany made a similar suggestion to Japan over a year ago which, however, was not accepted. Germany's exports to Japan during the first four months of this year were valued at fifty million gold marks, while Germany imported silk to the value of 117 million gold marks during the first seven months of this year.

"LITTLE OLD NEW YORK"

THEATRE

Already it has been demonstrated that the Star Theatre's current attraction is a spectacle with highly dramatic moments giving those who see it a startlingly realistic idea of how their forefathers lived more than a century ago. And in the story itself is introduced such characters as J. Astor, Cornelius Vanderbilt, good old Washington Irving, and other "giants" of that distant past. Woven round these personalities is the story of a little Irish girl who, disguised as a boy, comes to the great Continent to lay claim to a fortune bequeathed to her invalid brother, who died on the trip to America to claim his inheritance. She falls in love with the step-son of her uncle who has left the money—the step-son who would have come into the fortune had not the invalid boy arrived within a specified time. Here is the gem of an interesting study and story, and Marion Davies as the boy-girl right worthily sustains the role. The story itself has incidents in it of special appeal; thus will be seen the first trip up the great Hudson river of the steamboat "Clermont" amid the hoots and howls of derision of the thousands of people lined along the river banks. Then again is the whipping post scene where the heroine as a boy, is rushed through a mob of howling men to receive the punishment which the crowd demands because she rang the firebell at a crucial moment and stopped the prizefight. This is realism brought to the highest degree. And so the story moves on in all its epic greatness until its sweet and interesting close, sending away those who see it with a sweet taste in the mouth. The picture is showing at the Star until Friday, a direct piece of evidence of managerial faith.

"THE RECKLESS AGE"

DENNY AT THE CORONET
THEATRE

Reginald Denny makes another appearance at the Coronet Theatre to-morrow in a picture that gives him every opportunity to demonstrate his virility. His performances in the great boxing episodes of "The Leather Pushers"—to name only one of his successes—will be remembered. In this story of a somewhat hectic age, with masked men, crooks, elopement, Denny has opportunities after his own great heart, and utilises them to the full. Many will want to see the scene at the altar and the snatching away at the last moment of the bride-to-be. It is likely that the pulse will beat a little faster as a result of seeing "The Reckless Age" and wondering at the amazing romance which is to be found in it. To-day is the last showing of that triumvirate of mirth "The Count," "Easy Street," and "The Immigrant." In them Charlie Chaplin "gallivants" through an amazing number of mirth-provoking escapades to the great content of those who sit and chuckle and howl with agreeable consistency.

Hongkong, Monday, Nov. 24, 1924.

RUSSIA AND EGYPT.

While Hongkong is following its quiet, hum-drum pursuits free for the nonce from the disturbing influences that usually emanate from the Canton storm-centre, dramatic events are taking place in the Homeland's field of foreign affairs. Firstly, there is the new Conservative Government's decision to annul the Russian treaties signed by the Labour Premier

This decision of course surprises nobody, for it was, along with the Campbell case, one of the chief planks in the Conservative Party's platform. Besides arousing no surprise, the doom of the Russian treaties will cause no regret. Every person anxious to see the world's economic stability restored realizes the necessity for trade with Russia; every student of politics who wishes to see the armed peace replaced by general security knows that not only must we recognise Russia, as we have done, but we must also contemplate the day when she will be a member of the League of Nations; every sensible person appreciates both these needs, but nobody claiming any practical common sense at all sees the need for presenting the Soviet Government with £40,000,000 of the British taxpayers' good money to spend in propaganda against the British Empire. Therefore while we regret the dishonouring of a former Premier's signature, even when it was given in defiance of the nation's wishes, as the Soviet delegates well knew, we must regard the act as an unfortunate necessity, an unfortunate necessity for which Russia is solely to blame.

While the Russian treaties decision came as no surprise, the Egyptian crisis came as a profound sensation. The dastardly murder of the Sirdar and the solemn obsequies that followed have stirred the imagination of the world. All eyes are now on Egypt and the question of the hour is what will happen next. That Britain is ready for any emergency is evidenced alike by the prompt troop movements that have taken place and by the stern tone of the note demanding reparation and guarantees. Zaglul Pasha has already conceded certain points, such as the punishment of the assassins and the payment of an indemnity, but doubt still exists whether he will as readily concede the other points regarding political and financial measures. Doubtless he will seek to temporise, but Britain can accept no empty promises. Not only is it impossible for her to relinquish control over a vital Empire artery like the Suez Canal, but she cannot break her pledges to the Sudan, concerning which Egypt's demands have the sanction of neither legal nor moral right. What Egypt will do in the face of these inextinguishable facts is difficult to say, for in her present frame of mind she might easily choose to continue the campaign against British rights and subjects, thus bringing down upon her head the appropriate measures Britain promises to take to safeguard her interests in Egypt and the Sudan.

Sleeping "Rough"

How strange to those at home would seem the reply given to a question asked at the Criminal Sessions which have just concluded as to the means by which existence was eked out by a creature whose death was the subject of proceedings against a Chinese for murder—"looking after the pitches and blankets of coolies sleeping in the streets." With a little imagination one can almost hear the protests against such a state of affairs being tolerated in a British colony under which human beings are forced to take their night's rest in the public thoroughfare. They may be made in all sincerity of purpose, but how much the street is to be preferred on hygienic grounds to the Chinese cubicle, which serves as a sleeping apartment for sometimes a dozen human beings, only those who have seen such conditions can appreciate. By the continued extensions of the Ordinance protecting the tenant's interests the Government has done a great deal for all classes in the matter of housing and the only grounds on which they can be said to have tolerated a system "forcing" those who cannot pay for cubicle space into the streets is that they have brought forward no legislation to cope with the evils of sub-sub-letting. This, however, does not go to the root of the matter. Inflated rents due to exceptional circumstances and passed on in turn to the many tenants may have something to do with the increased number who are making the streets their nightly place of abode; but so long as the mentality of the Chinese coolie remains what it is and what it has been for generations—nothing will deter him from sleeping in what to other minds at any rate appear to be the most uncomfortable places he can find.

Rabble Without Leader.

It was said of Chiang, a few months back that should ever Dr. Sun Yat-sen's prestige be denied to the southern metropolis, the motley crowd of senior and subordinate politicians and militarists would become a rabble without a leader. Now that the Republican chief has gone to Shanghai it may not be futile to take stock of what is being done by the supporters he left behind. "Carry on" seems to be everybody's slogan. First, let it be stated that the lack of sensation—which, as predicted would be forthcoming—is not due to the Chinese characteristic of being conservative. That the more powerful and influential are satisfied to let sleeping dogs lie, that the weaker and lesser known are unable to lift a finger, seem more obvious reasons for "marking time." Since their entry into the province, the Yunnanese soldiers have been supreme and it is safe to presume that no other denomination has the backing to question that supremacy. Because they control the major sources of revenue—and because they are sensible enough to realise that no good can come of any attempt to usurp what civil authority the Cantonese politicians retain—the Yunnanese leaders will, doubtless, be content to remain as they are. On the other hand, the Cantonese Kuomintang politicians are still the civil heads. What vestige of authority they possess they will make use of, without a desire to expand, till further orders are received from Dr. Sun.

WELSH NOTES.

WELSH POETRY SCHOOLS.

(By Ap Rhys.)

Last week I wrote of the attention which the claims of rival schools in music and poetry are attracting in Wales and of the chief difference of opinion—whether or not the old national poetry and music should be jealously guarded to the exclusion of all foreign influence. I found it difficult to express myself without illustrations and as space did not then permit of these I have devoted that at my disposal this week to English translations of poems of the old and newer styles. Dafydd ab Gwilym has been well described as a modern poet before his time but I cannot possibly pass over this greatest of all Welsh lyrical writers of the fourteenth century. Here is a translation of the opening to his "Ode to the Skylark":—

Sentinel of the dawning light!
Reverberator of the Spring!
How sweetly, nobly wild, thy flight,
Thy boundless journeying:
Far from thy brethren of the woods alone,
A hermit chorister before God's throne!

Here is Jenny Jones, an example of the folk poetry of "Ceirwg," the Burns of Wales whose lyrics to Welsh airs have gone round the world.

In the church of Llangollen,
When joy-bells were chiming,
If once my wits wandered, right well I know why:
'Twas Jenny's "I take thee" to heaven sent him climbing,
Until her soft pinch pulled me back from the sky!
I love a good neighbour, I love rest from labour,
Good music and preaching, my pipe and my purse;
But above all and any I love my own Jenny.

For richer or poorer, for better or worse.

The "naturalness and directness both of perception and expression" of the older style may be fully appreciated in these examples of the English and Welsh respectively.

"The Sailor's Grave," by Tudno:

In death's abyss the sailor lies asleep,
With not a stone his resting-place to show;
Let not thy thunders vex his grave, O deep,
But hush thy waves as o'er his head they flow.

A moving example of a penitential:

Wind on the sea, and sun on the mountain,
—Gray stones instead of woods,
And seagulls instead of men—
O God, why does my heart not break!

Of the modern poets I think one quotation will be sufficient to illustrate the changes which have been made by the introduction of foreign metres.

The following is taken from the Bangor Book of Verse which young Welsh students have published and is by Gwen Roberts.

I see Arenig on the world's far rim
A vague, ethereal ghost, at whose dim feet
Rolls Migneint, sometimes laggard, sometimes fleet,
With errant fancy and fantastic whim
Stretching to purple moorland land and to miles
Of plummy fern. And there are sudden heights
And sudden depths in Migneint, wayward flights
Of sunny greenward topped by ragged piles
Of rock. And Migneint shares our mountain love,
For part belongs to you, and part to me.
It throws your dancing streamlets to my sea
In swift cascades from windy slopes above.
And while I touch the fringe of Migneint's gown,
You watch the sunlight glinting on her crown.

OPIUM CONFERENCE.

DISCUSSION LASTS EIGHT HOURS.

GERMANY AND CHINA.

(Reuter's Service.)

GENEVA, November 22.—After eight hours' discussion yesterday the Business Committee of the second Opium Conference drew up a plan of work which will be submitted to a plenary conference this morning. The plan provides for the appointment of two general committees, for the purpose of considering plans for the limitation and production of drugs, limitation of manufacture of raw material for export, and also considering general plans for amending the Hague Opium Convention. The plan also provides for the appointment of six sub-committees, one of which will be composed of medical, pharmaceutical and statistical experts, which will consider the report of the League's Health Committee regarding the need of drugs for medicinal purposes. In the subsequent discussion the Indian delegate desired to reserve the right to discuss the competence of the Conference later.

Replying to criticisms, Sir Malcolm Delevingne, the reporter of the Business Committee, pointed out that there was no agreement with manufacturing countries with respect to limitation, owing to competition. He objected to the inclusion of hashish in this Conference, though he agreed that views might be exchanged thereon.

The Conference adopted the plan by 31 votes to 1, with a reservation by China, and two abstentions, namely, the United States and Uruguay. The former's action was based on the absence of assurances on the part of the Conference that American suggestions will be entertained.

The Conference also adopted the Polish proposal, urging equality of representation on sub-committees between consuming and producing countries, for the purpose of facilitating an understanding. A Spanish proposal, in favour of distributing among delegations addresses from private associations, was likewise adopted.

ITALIAN POLITICS.

CRISIS IS REPORTED OVER.

(Reuter's Service.)

ROME, November 23.—After a debate lasting several days, during which Government policy at many points was criticised, the Chamber voted confidence by 337 to 17. Eighteen abstained from voting.

The debate, which blazed on policy, in regard to Home Affairs was characterised by attacks on the Government for curtailing the freedom of the Press and engaging in unconstitutional practices as regards municipal and provincial Government. The attitude of sections of the Liberal party showed that while ex-Premier Giolitti and Orlando were definitely against the Government, ex-Premier Salandra, representing the majority of Liberals in the House, still promised to support the Fascist regime.

Prior to the division, the Minister of Interior (Sig. Fedezani) undertook to introduce as a matter of urgency a measure dealing with the question of the freedom of the Press.

In winding up a debate on Home Affairs, Signor Mussolini declared he had always tried hard to separate party affairs from Government affairs and solemnly promised to submit all questions to Parliament with a view to a return to a normal constitutional regime.

ISMET PASHA.

A Constantinople message, received yesterday, states that Ismet Pasha has been appointed Turkish Premier in succession to Ismet Pasha. The latter is stated to have resigned on the ground of ill-health. Ismet Pasha's resignation is probably due to political reasons.

"THE MARTYR QUEEN"

Over 1,000 feet of interesting scenes.

The story commences at the period when the young princess Marie Antoinette came from the court of Vienna to become the wife of the Dauphin of France. It shows how her husband's indifference induced her life to a quiet and uneventful one; how her domestic affections were aroused by the illness of her eldest son; her devotion and courage when the king and his family were made prisoners; and concludes with her trial and death on the scaffold.

Of the many elaborate film reproductions of the French Revolution which have been submitted to the public within recent years, this production is the most notable; the gorgeousness, stupendousness and sheer artistry in direction belated description. It is a picture that is incomparable from many angles of production.

Its tenderness, beauty of thought and treatment, its tremendous soul-grabbing theme and magnificent character portrayals will stir spectators as they have never been moved before.

Startled by an alarm of approaching police, a Chinese, in attempting to get away, had a fall from the first floor of No. 69 Woosung Street, Kowloon. The man sustained severe injuries in the fall, and was taken to the Kwong Wah Hospital.

The Shanghai General Chamber of Commerce has sent a telegram to Tuan Chi-jui urging him to take up the reins of Government. They appeal to him to get all the soldiers disbanded and ordered back to their homes, and to punish those who have brought suffering on the people. They also urge him to abolish the title of Tschun.

The launch took place on October 16 at Messrs. Harland and Wolff's Greenock yard, of the P. and O. steamer "Rasmak". This vessel has been built to take the place of the "Salsette", sunk by enemy action during the war, and is intended mainly for the service between Aden and Bombay, connecting at Aden with the Australian mail steamers. The "Rasmak" is a much larger vessel than the "Salsette", being 9,900 tons, as against the "Salsette's" tonnage of 5,842, and she is designed to give an easy sea speed of 17 to 18 knots, with exceptionally comfortable passenger accommodation. Viscountess Inchcape christened the ship.

The Chief Justice, in the Supreme Court, Singapore, has refused to grant an injunction to the Anglo-Chinese Dispensary restraining a former employee, Lam See-chol, from selling an anti-opium remedy in which the parties had been concerned together in making and selling under an agreement. It was stated in the course of the case that the remedy was mixed with opium and smoked, the amount of opium decreasing as the amount of the remedy was increased.

Mr. Yung Kuei, Chargé d'Affaires in Washington for China, is reported by the Chinese press to have telegraphed Peking reporting that a secretary of the Far Eastern Division of the U. S. Government has approached him with the following offer:—That American Merchants and financiers are prepared to make China a loan of $180,000,220 to adjust her foreign debts and military expenditure if China will settle her internal differences, maintain peace and order, and permit Marshal Tuan Chi-jui to enter Peking as President.

A bar boy in the employ of the Wintergarden Café Shanghai, was sentenced to one month's imprisonment in the Mixed Court for the theft of a bottle of brandy from the café. Mr. L. B. Brown, manager of the café told the Court that during the past week he lost something like 15 bottles of different brands of drink by theft, and he determined to keep a watch. On Tuesday he saw this particular boy tying up his trousers outside the bar. The boy walked out, and as he did so the door leg bumped up against the door with a thud. Witness was immediately suspicious and searched the youth, finding the bottle of brandy concealed in the trousers. Mr. Brown believed he had a special pocket made inside in which to hide bottles.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Sir Harry Lauder and Lady Lauder arrived in India last month.

Mr. Zobel, the new German Consul for Siam, whose departure from Europe by the s.s. "Haveland" was postponed, arrived in Singapore en route for Bangkok on the N.D.L. "Coblenz".

Dr. William Botting Hensley, LL.D., F.R.S., who died at Broadstairs on October 7, at the age of 80, was the late Keeper of the Herbarium Library at Kew Gardens. Born on December 29, 1843, he was educated privately, and joined the staff at Kew at the age of 17. Among other contributions to the literature of botany he wrote on the flora of China in the Journal of the Linnean Society.

Mr. R. N. Holmes is the new President of the Penang Club, in succession to the Hon. Mr. D. A. M. Brown, who has held the position practically continuously for the past twelve years, and who will be going home, with Mrs. Brown, early in 1925.

In announcing the death of Sir Percy Scott, on October 18, the "China Express and Telegraph" says that his most famous command was the "Terrible" in which, with Captain Lambton (now Admiral of the Fleet Sir Hedworth Meux) in the "Powerful", her sister ship, he went to Durban, arriving in the nick of time to save Ladysmith. The "Terrible" was on her way to the China Station to relieve the "Powerful", when the two met off Mauritius, and Lambton, with a splendid independence, ordered Scott to accompany him to South Africa, and also took on board a battalion from the island. Her guns played a leading part in the campaign, and were used on mountings invented by Captain Scott. The "Terrible" went on from the Cape to China, where, in June, 1900, at the time of the Boxer outbreak, mobile heavy guns were landed from the ship to assist the International Brigade, which, under Sir Edward Seymour, took part in the defence of Tientsin and the advance to the relief of the Peking Legations. He received the South African medal and that for China, as well as the C.B. for his services in the supply of heavy guns to the land forces. The "Terrible" then became the crack gunnery ship of the China Squadron. Admiral Scott's subsequent improvements of "director" firing for ships' guns will be well known. He was all for hitting and efficiency and had nothing for "lick and spit". While commanding a section of the Channel Fleet in 1907 Sir Percy Scott had come in collision with his superior officer, Lord Charles Beresford, owing to his having issued the famous signal to a cruiser: "Paintwork signal to be more in demand than gunnery."

Come into harbour and paint your ship and look pretty," Lord Charles Beresford made a general signal in tone order was "contemptuous in character, and insubordinate in intent," and directed it to be expunged from the logs. With full naval honours, the burial of Admiral Sir Percy Scott took place at sea. The remains, after cremation, were taken by road to Portsmouth, where they were placed on board a cruiser, and wharfed out as was customary in the days of the

CRICKET INTERPORT.

MALAYA DEFEAT KOWLOON.

LIVOCK SCORES SPARKLING CENTURY.

At King's Park on Saturday, the K.C.C. were at home to the visiting cricketers from Malaya, who were matched against a representative team chosen from Kowloon residents. The home side batted first and obtained 221 runs for the loss of 9 wickets (the match was 12 a side). The visitors went in to bat at 3.15 and knocked off the runs with a few minutes to spare for the loss of only two wickets.

Throughout the day some sparkling cricket was seen, but Livock's 133 not out put all other performances in the shade. At the conclusion of the game, Mr. E. Abraham, Vice-President of the Kowloon Cricket Club, in a felicitous speech, congratulated the victors. Before handing the K.C.C. flag to Mr. Holmes-Brown, the visiting captain, Mr. Abraham dwelt on the pleasure it had been to the Kowloon Club members to act as hosts and asked the Malayan visitors to keep a date open when next they visited the Colony. Mr. Abraham said that the home team had been a thoroughly representative one and though they had been easily defeated, they were anxious to meet the Malayan cricketers again and would always welcome a visit from them.

Mr. Holmes-Brown suitably replied and promised that a date should be kept open on Malaya's next visit. In conclusion, Mr. Abraham said that it was his pleasurable duty, on behalf of the Kowloon Club, to hand to Flight-Lieutenant Livock a presentation bat—as it was the custom of the Club to present a bat to each player who scored a century on the K.C.C. ground. In making the presentation, Mr. Abraham expressed the hope that the new bat would be useful in scoring many another century in the hands of Flight-Lieut. Livock, who had given such a fine display that afternoon.

Flight-Lieut. Livock, in thanking Mr. Abraham and the K.C.C. members for the presentation, remarked that, after his display, he had come to the conclusion that a golf club would have been a more fitting gift—in fact he had not realised before that he was really quite a useful golfer! The usual cheers brought proceedings to a close.

The Game. Kowloon batted first, the start being disastrous. With the score 5 only, Lay was out; Lyle left 8 runs later, then Ramsay and Matthews took the score to 48, when the former was caught by Edwards off Grenier. Wood and Matthews carried the total to 106 when the latter was caught by Grenier off Knight. The outgoing batsman had scored an invaluable 54, which included 7 fours and 3 twos. Fincher then joined Wood and they remained together until 198 was on the telegraph board, when Wood's fine innings came to a close for 73. Wood hit 8 fours, 1 three and 7 twos. Fincher left 4 runs later, after contributing a capital 42 which included 2 fours and 3 threes. After his departure only 17 runs were added before the closure was put into effect. The declaration was a very sporting one, as it gave the visitors 2 1/2 hours in which to score 220 runs.

Brand and Livock opened the visitors' innings and scored over 60 before Brand was out for 20. Grenier filled the vacancy and scored 21 before being caught by Evans. With Livock and Edwards together, the spectators were treated to a fine display of clean hard hitting all round the wicket. With nine minutes to spare, Livock scored the winning hit and the game was abandoned two overs later. Livock was not out 133, which included 2 sixes, 16 fours, 3 threes and 13 twos and only 22 singles, which gives one a good idea of the hitting witnessed. Edwards, who had 38 to his credit when stumps were drawn, hit 3 fours, 9 twos and 8 singles. It was a sporting declaration on the part of Kowloon and a meritorious victory on the part of the visitors.

As Mr. Holmes-Brown said, in the course of returning thanks to Mr. Abraham and the members of the K.C.C. for their hospitality, it looked a safe bet for Kowloon, despite the time at Malaya's disposal in which to obtain the runs. Scores follow:

WORLD OF SPORT.IS IT KNOWN?

[From Sunday Sportsman.]

London, October 14.—That the Casarwitch, which will be run this week, was founded, like the Cambridgehire, in 1839.

—That we have told the story of the sad fate of the rider of the first winner, Neptunus Stag, who afterwards became a hotel keeper in Birmingham, and owing to matrimonial troubles committed suicide by drowning himself in a butt of rain water.

—That a queer story hangs to the second Casarwitch.

—That a glance at the records will show you that this race was won by a horse named Clarion.

—That this horse was ridden by Jem Robinson and won by a head from Bloomsbury.

—That Bloomsbury was owned by Ridsdale, who had taken a sort of partial knock over Queen of Trumps' St. Leger five years before, and had partially retrieved himself by winning the Derby with Bloomsbury.

—That he made up his mind to be a man or a mouse over Bloomsbury's Casarwitch and backed him to win £20,000.

—That he purposely refrained from engaging a jockey for the reason that jockeys were often "got at."

—That so late as six o'clock the night before the race he was still without a jockey.

—That a friend who had backed Bloomsbury came to him and said, "For God's sake, Bob, get a move on. Jem Robinson's without a ride, and I can get him for the asking."

—That Ridsdale replied, "I'm afraid to trust any of them. Come back at ten o'clock and I'll tell you what to do."

—That at the hour appointed the friend came back and was told to engage Robinson.

—That he once went to Robinson's lodgings only to find that Robinson had been engaged for Clarion less than a quarter of an hour before.

—That as Ridsdale could not get Robinson he put up one of the Chifneys.

—That in a terrific finish Robinson, on Clarion, beat Bloomsbury by a head.

—That without doubt Robinson could have won on either horse.

—That the race finished Ridsdale, who some years afterwards was found dead in a loft at Newmarket with just one solitary ha'penny in his pocket.

—That it is seldom owners write to the papers about their horses.

—That Mr. Adam Scott has written about Jazz Band's recent trial with Roi Rouge.

FLYWEIGHT KING.

VILLA TO FIGHT GOLDSTEIN IN MANILA?

MAMMOTH RECEPTION.

According to the "Manila Bulletin" of November 17, Pancho Villa was given "one of the greatest receptions ever recorded any Filipino" when he landed in Manila from the Admiral Line "President McKinley."

Villa stated that he had "challenged Abe Goldstein for a championship fight in Manila. If the fight came off, the 'King of Flyweights' would probably be conceding 8 to 10 pounds to Goldstein. The 'Bulletin' also says that several Philippine business men were willing to give subscriptions to make the fight a possibility."

Villa became flyweight champion of the world by defeating Jimmy Wilde in New York on June 18 last year. He passed through Hongkong with his wife and manager on his way home from the United States after a sojourn of three years.—Editor, "China Mail."

GANDHI RECANTS.

ADMITS POWER LOST TO COMMAND OBEDIENCE.

FAVOURS A COMPROMISE.

(Reuters Service.)

BOMBAY, November 23. At a meeting of the All India Congress Committee, Mr. Gandhi, moving the approval of a compromise, made a surprising recantation of his views, especially regarding entry to the Legislative Councils, which he hitherto had resolutely opposed and which was the main barrier between the orthodox politicians and the Swarajists.

Mr. Gandhi sadly admitted he had lost the power to command universal acceptance of his views. He exclaimed "I am not a lunatic; I am a reasonable man. I am losing ground gradually and I would not hesitate to bend before the Swarajists Liberals. If necessary, I shall bend before Englishmen, if only they show a change of heart." The Committee overwhelmingly approved a compromise.

Earlier Conference. A Calcutta message of November 7 read:

The conference between Swarajists and Mr. Gandhi, mentioned on the 4th, has concluded in a compromise. Their views are contained in a published statement to the effect that as the policy of repression initiated by the Bengal Government, with the sanction of the Viceroy, is designed not against any party advocating violence but against the Swarajists, the co-operation of all parties is necessary, and it has decided that Congress shall first of all suspend the programme of non-co-operation except so far as it relates to the refusal to wear foreign cloth; and secondly, that the Swarajists shall carry on the work of the Central and Provincial Legislatures on behalf of Congress. Other points refer to the removal of untouchability, the question of Hindu-Muslim unity, and hand-spinning by each Congressman of a certain quantity of "Kaddan." The last is a severely modified form of the principal points of the old triple boycott in the early non-co-operation days.

RENT DISPUTE.

VOLUBLE WOMAN IN SUMMARY COURT.

The examination of a voluble Chinese woman defendant, representative of twenty-one tenants in respect of whom the landlord is claiming ejectment from a house in Second Street, occupied the greater part of the time of the Police Judge in the Summary Court this morning.

The point at issue is whether the landlord asked the tenants for double rent for one month. Some of the tenants, paid the excess amount, understanding from the landlord that he would not pull down the house. He had since erected scaffolding.

The case is proceeding. Mr. M. K. Lo appears for the landlord. The defendants are not legally represented.

MR. A. COMMONS.

NORTHERN RIDER ON WAY HOME.

Among the guests at the Hongkong Hotel is Mr. A. Commons, the well-known North China gentleman rider. Mr. Commons, who has disposed of his share in the business of Messrs. Whitmore and Commons, of Tientsin, is on his way to New Zealand where in company with his father he is interested in a big station, which has recently been heavily stocked with sheep.

Asked whether he intended to abandon the East altogether, Mr. Commons gave "Argus" of the "China Mail" to understand that he would in all probability be back in Hongkong in time for the 1925 annual meeting. Mr. Commons, as already noted in these columns, had a most successful meeting in Peking, riding no less than 17 winners during the three days. He did even better than that at the Tientsin meeting and it is good news that the Eastern Turf is not to lose him entirely. On arrival here Mr. Commons received word that his old favourite, The Regent, had won three races at the joint meeting of the foreign and Chinese Turf Clubs in Tientsin, a week ago. The news came by cable and so far the papers have not reached here with the details.

Mr. Commons sails from here on Wednesday for Auckland, New Zealand, the land of his birth.

TAIMOSHAN

A story was current this morning that two men from the "Pegasus," the seaplane carrier, now lying wanted to get assistance, and that the injured man spent the night covered in bracken, being eventually brought down this morning by a police search party.
